Commodity Conflict: The Political Economy of International Commodity Negotiations

L. N Rangarajan

political With lower commodity prices and a slack export market, FAPRI projects a steady. conflict between the State Department's international economic goals and the